Span any group size

Bring people together in a variety of formats. A simple and flexible design ensures any type of meeting space or size can be created from standard components. Power and data is available above or below the worksurface to facilitate technology needs.
Create casual meeting areas and other places to gather. Bridges II high tables provide places to work, meet or socialize. Available shared leg configurations combine a clean aesthetic with planning flexibility. Low or high partitions for collaborative seating can help define space and provide privacy in open settings.
Create areas for coworking

Provide touchdown and coworking spaces for resident workers and visitors. Available desk-height power provides easy access for plugging in laptops, tablets and phones. Collaborative seating options can be integrated or freestanding to support multiple seating configurations.
